

the public "at a realistic price" a replica of the original AC Cobra vehicle produced from the original AC Cobra tooling, manufactured during the 1960's predominantly for the American market. Autokraft is in the process of finalizing a U.S. distribution agreement and showed the car at the North American International Auto Show in Detroit in January 1995.

The applicant believes that it will comply with Standard No. 208 six months before January 1, 1997, when the 2-year extension of its exemption that it has requested would expire.

No comments were received on the petition.

Review of the application for renewal shows continued existence of the net loss position of the applicant upon which the agency first found that compliance would cause substantial economic hardship. The fact that only seven cars were sold in the United States under the previous two-year exemption demonstrates that the U.S. specification MkIV could not contribute to a significant offset of Autokraft's net losses. The examples on display at the Detroit Show were reported to have a suggested price of $95,000 each, making it unlikely that the applicant will increase its sales by a significant number of vehicles, even if it can enter a U.S. distribution agreement. The car, an open 2-seater, is of limited utility. NHTSA notes that the company's efforts to comply have been made more difficult by the vehicle's 1960's configuration, but that the company believes that it will be in a position to manufacture a fully-conforming vehicle by July 1996, thus it has not requested the maximum exemption of 3 years to which it would be entitled under the hardship provisions. NHTSA also recognizes that the MkIV is certified as meeting all applicable Federal motor vehicle safety standards except for S4.1.4 of Standard No. 208, and that each of its passenger positions is equipped with a three-point restraint system of a type that previously was sufficient to meet Standard No. 208's requirements for passenger cars. It is in the public interest that a variety of motor vehicles continue to be provided. Sales, even though small in number, will make a positive contribution to the economy through the employment afforded through the distribution, sales, and repair channels.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is hereby found that compliance with Standard No. 208 would cause substantial economic hardship to a manufacturer that tried to comply with the standard in good faith. It is hereby further found that an exemption is consistent with the public interest and 49 U.S.C. Chapter 301—Motor Vehicle Safety. Accordingly, NHTSA Temporary Exemption No. 92-6 from paragraph S4.1.4. of 49 CFR 571.208 Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 208 Occupant Crash Protection is extended to January 1, 1997.
